

High Commissioner visits Patton.

The High Commissioner of India, Admiral (Retd) Sureesh Mehta who is based in Wellington visited Patton HO in Auckland on May 25th, 2010 to meet our CEO for the Patton Group of Companies, Sameer Handa.

During the visit they discussed the various business opportunities available in India, with particular focus on the food and dairy sector where Pattons are specialists in refrigeration systems and applications. Discussions also involved the role Pattons can play through its' now, two years established, Indian operations. Additional discussion was centred around the potential for Patton to set up a local manufacturing plant in India in the near future.

With Pattons increased presence in the region and Indias growing economy the future holds many possibilities.
